Alumni at Work Request more information International Student Admissions Programs MSIM Admissions International Students An international student is defined as any person who is not a U.S. citizen or a U.S. Permanent Resident, and requires a visa to be in the U.S. This includes individuals who have visas with the designation F1, J1, H4, etc. There are no separate application requirements or procedures for international applicants. Please follow the same application process and submit the same materials as instructed. English Language Proficiency Requirement Non-native English speakers should review the requirements on the additional application materials page and the UW English Language proficiency requirements in UW Grad School Policy 3.2 . Financial Ability Requirements Applicants requesting an F-1 or J-1 student visa must meet the University of Washington's financial ability requirement. Applicants should not mail financial ability documents or bank statements to the Information School during the admissions process. Individuals who are admitted to the program and accept the offer of admission will be given further instructions. Information about financial ability requirements is available on the UW Graduate School website.
